

HINS Newsletter No 35 - 27th June 2025

Message from Mrs Fynn :

What an exciting week thinking ahead to next year. Hopefully your child enjoyed their transition visits this week, be it to another class here at HINS, or taking the leap to the Junior School. I have certainly had lots of conversations with slightly nervous but excited children sharing their thoughts on how it went. It's always a strange few weeks for both the adults and the children with their feet in the present but their thoughts to the future.

The teachers have been busy preparing end of year reports over the long weekend and those will be with you in the next few weeks celebrating the successes that the children have had this year and providing targets for next steps.

But for now, the teaching and learning continues as usual.

At the end of the day,
all that really matters is that your loved ones are well, you've done your best and that you're thankful for all you have.
